

Illustrative Example 1- Existing Lease Transition

Specialty contractor enters into a three-year contract effective January 1, 2021 for the use of four bulldozers and agrees to make the following annual escalating payments.

Year one:      $ 80,000

Year two:        $ 140,000

Year three:     $ 180,000

The transition amount of the right-of-use (ROU) asset and liability to make lease payments is $244,144 at a discount rate of 4.8% starting the effective date of the second year of lease.

Journal Entry Year One: (before effective date)

	Dr.	Cr.
Operating rent expense	$ 133,333
Deferred rent liability		$ 53,333
Cash operating rent payment		$ 80,000
Operating lease rent payment

Journal Entry Year Two: (January 1, 2022 effective date)

Operating right-of-use asset	$ 244,144
Deferred rent liability	$ 53,333
Operating current liability		$ 125,721
Operating long term liability		$ 171,755
Capitalization of operating lease for transition year

Operating current liability	$ 125,721
Operating lease cost	$ 133,333
Operating accumulated depreciation		$ 119,054
Cash operating rent payment		$ 140,000
Operating expense accrual and payment

Operating long term liability	$ 171,756
Operating current liability		$ 171,756
Reclassification of operating liability from long term to current

Journal Entry Year Three:

Operating current liability	$ 171,756
Operating lease cost	$ 133,333
Operating accumulated depreciation		$ 125,089
Cash operating rent payment		$ 180,000
Operating expense accrual and payment

Operating accumulated depreciation	$ 244,144
Operating right-of-use asset		$ 244,144
Normal termination of operating lease at end of lease term.		